CHANGE IN DEGREE IRKS SOME STUDENTS

Anupam Vincent Ram

A jerk for the students of MS communication affiliated to Bangalore University. There is a sudden change occurred in the degree of MS communication. Bangalore University suddenly after one year announced that, students will get Master of Arts degree in place of Master of Science. Students of MS communication outside the JnanaJyothi auditorium while a syndicate meeting was under way. Students are angry with this all of sudden decision of Bangalore University. The decision of change in degree was taken in July by the Academic Council based on University Grants commission's of a gazette notification. Many Students were suddenly shocked to see the Change till September So they could have chance to change the college. Many students It as a big mistake of university because they received this notification the 2nd semester. Now students are going to give their final exam of first year of MS communication and suddenly they got this news. It will effect the the future of the students definitely. Also there is no real satisfaction from the university for the student. Instead the vice chancellor of the university who had told that this change will be implemented in 2015-16 academic year. After all these explanation, the students are not satisfied with this decision at all. Students want the degree for which they registered themselves. If it is a Administrative hosch posch then it is really a height of carelessness. This will affect the students Greatly.

Modi's Development working with..?

Kaushik R

It is been an year that the modi-led UPA government which has finished its governance. The recent union budget did the same as that of UPA term with quite differences. Excluding "Jan Dhan Yojana", "acche Din", " Atal Pension Yojana" and many more the slogan is more or less same which was raised previously. Only point however can be differentiated that the present government is aggressive in raising slogans and giving advertisement which has costed upto 850 crores. The finance minister utters saying that "we are laying the map of accelerating growth, enhancing growth process enhancing growth process to common man, youth and child; those quality must be improved." Excluding the term women empowerment this is more or less the same of the previous version.

Problems foreseen

It is an very basic to know problems of common man. of all essential commodities, growing trend in unemployment with which vast number of workforce searching for jobs that too for for a temporary one where the concept of permanent basis is dead, the rise in crimes against women is such that every 12 minutes a crime happens out of it 20 minutes a rape. Molestation, Sexual harassment and many more. More alarmingly people with a vast population of 77% who live less than 20rs and below that too many getting a square meal in a day

Governmental perspective
Just After the presentation of budget there are steep rise in crude oil prices. Petrol as gone up to 7.5 high in a span of 5 months. Superseding the fact of rise in rate in the international market the governmental tax is be imposed on public. In this connection there is a rise in all essential commodities. BJP has remained completely silent in the case of crimes on women. Other than insurance scheme and atal pension scheme there is no step taken for improving the life of common man. For unemployment there is a sanction of 1500 crore but there is no talk about it anywhere neither about the policy or programme. 2% reduction in Educational funds. Surpassing all this Swachh Bharat campaign is for whom? People are in such a condition that they need basic food. It may become sudden to expect the government to do away with issues but contrastingly PM has engaged in series of foreign tours in the hope of bringing technology to India and uniting the solidarity by proving so called great leader. That too major tours are accompanied by darling of Bjp's Capital fund Adani groups who is benefitted of 26000 crores in just an year. Out of all these changes in the administrations with candidates recommended by sangh parivar., Distortions of history by Union HRD ministry with a special appointment of RSS Candidate Dinanath Barta as the head of text book Committee. Out of all, there is rise in the Communal riots. But point however is that 'Is the acche din coming for same Indian Monopoly houses are for a common man?

The Strength of the government lies in the ignorance of the people - Leo Tolstoy

Education At Crisis

Today country's education is in such a condition that it is been utterly commercialised or sold like products in the market. the whole educational system has become an industry of profit earning. Even the most responsible institution to maintain this, government has left the education for private lobbies Since the 1990's and after, educational sector is been the money making institution.

In this critical condition government has implemented RTE, which hopefully reaches the every child, the right to get education. But the point to be observed is that how far this policy can the serve the purpose of nation and make people benefitted to get the education. In a country where government schools and colleges which are under condition of no basic-infrastructure, management staff or atleast teachers. All the things are managed by only one teacher who plays a multi-tasking role of a teacher, cleaner, cook (mid-day meals), head of institution and what not.

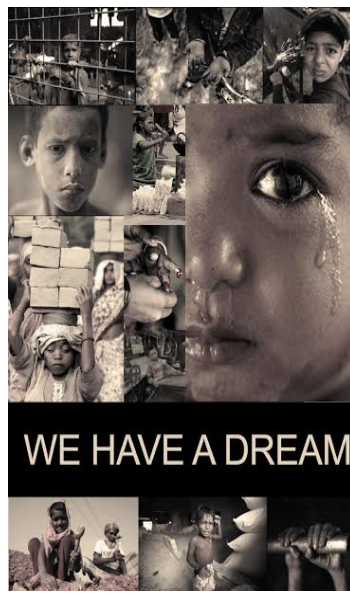

In this whole educational scenario the policies of the government too which are for private lobbies. All the educational policies which are since from the regime of the congress and all the other governments which came to power has commodified the education.

The present BJP-led Central government too is no where different from the other. Since an year the MHRD ministry is under series of controversies. A new Committe which has been setup to review the educational policy which has been headed and filled with the candidates of the RSS has raised the eyebrows in different ways. Earlier BJP had witnessed several criticisms on saffronising the curriculum by introducing the facts of mythological stories as history and distorting the real facts.

Perpendicularly recent developments which happened in 102nd Science Congress where a seminar conducted by Ananda B odas who has claimed the existence of 'Pushpaka Vimana' in the vedic age, that is to say in age where there was no iron nut. And a most blunder, which was committed by our honourable Prime Minister that claiming lord Ganesha was the first to get Plastic surgery by transfer of head.

All these alaraming developments have really raised many questions. But Educational System as a whole is under deep peril and threat. It is now left to the common man and the consious people of the society to find a way which can put an end to this by not by changing the government but by changing the whole System.

Robbing Childhood through Child Labour...

TENZIN SANDUP

What comes to our mind first when we think of Innocence? Is it the car that we drive or food that we eat, the money that we make or the words that we say...none of these, actually. The best thing that describes innocence is a child's face Children need love and affection and the way the are brought up shapes their future and build up their identity. Childhood is the most memorable period of one's life and is glorious, but there are many unfortunate children around the world who suffer more than enjoy.

In every society, there exists some sort of heirarchy in every aspect of life. Poverty has led people to opt for various jobs of different forms and the fate of the parents decide the fate of the children. Children are sent away from their homes to work and earn money, while some are kidnapped and forced to work.

Child labour has been increasing and everyday there are hundreds of children who become victim of this heinous crime. Children between the age groups of 5-15 are targeted mostly and are forced to work in hazardous work conditions, while some are sold off to different places or are traded for. There are children working in factories, in hotels, as maids, as thugs and also as sex workers. They are living a life that is forced on them not a life they want to. Children are the future of the society and they need education to survive this harsh world. There are various NGO's and other groups who rescue child victims and provide them education but still the number of victims are increasing every year. Child labour is an offence. Children should be treated well and should be provided with education and shouldn't be beaten up and made to work.

Every child is a gem of the future.

RIGHT TO FREEDOM : SELF IMMOLATION IN TIBET

TENZIN SANDUP

Until 1949, Tibet was an independent Buddhist nation in the Himalayas which had little contact with the rest of the world.

It existed as a rich cultural storehouse of the Buddhism. Religion was a unifying theme among the Tibetans as was their own language, literature, art, and world view developed by living at high altitudes, under harsh conditions, in a balance with their environment.

The Dalai Lama, an individual said to be an incarnation of the Buddha of Compassion, had been both the political and spiritual leader of the country. The current Dalai Lama (the 14th) was only 24 years old when this all came to an end in 1959.

The Communist Chinese invasion in 1950 led to years of disturbance that reached in the complete overthrow of the Tibetan Government and the self-imposed exile of the Dalai Lama and 100,000 Tibetans in 1959. Since that time over a million of Tibetans have been killed. Tibetans have become a minority in their own country. Chinese is the official language and up to 6,000 monasteries and shrines have appeared for the first time and have been destroyed. Famines in recorded history, natural resources, and wildlife reaches to extinct. Peaceful demonstra tions/protests/speech/writings and thousands of arrests by nuns, monks, and Tibetan people have resulted in deaths with little hope of justice. Because of all

Chinese oppression and not having freedom in own country

These developments Which lead, people of Tibet to take this most unprecedented step (self immolation) to call for the freedom of Tibet and for the return of Dalai Lama.

As of 20th may 2015 there have been about 139 reported self immolations in Tibet since 27 February 2009. The reason behind this self immolation is not having freedom in Tibet and though Tibetan people are opted for autonomy through non violent struggle, however Chinese government is not supporting this proposal. And moreover China is uninterested in well being of Tibetan people.

That's why they are declaring the reality of Tibet by burning their own bodies to call for freedom of Tibet. This horrfic incidents which rditurbs the civilization is been the voice of protest, voice for emancipation.

Right to Freedom is still a voice which is been there throughout the world, various questions arise without any answers. However the point is When will be tibet free from this struggle ?

First 'My Name is Khan' Next 'Amma Returns', What next?

Chaitra R

Just when India realized that 'Ache Din Anewali Hai', Indian judiciary seems to have crashed all our hopes.

Thanks to the judgements of Salman Khan's Hit and Run case and Jayalalitha's disproportionate assets case by the respective High Courts, the message that seems to go out is that if you have money and power, it's not hard to buy the your freedom Salman Khan was sentenced to 5 years of imprisonment, which seemed to upset the "Bhai" fans as they call themselves, who used social media to express their anguish.

But with deep pockets, the actor escaped jail for 13 years. Yes, you read right, 13 long years. But the point today is something different. Hardly minutes after the session court judgement, and the actor's camp wasted no time in hiring popular Supreme Court law yer Harish Slave, who supposedly charges a whopping Rs 30 lakhs per day. Within 2 hours, Mr. Salve did not disappoint, and Salman Khan was out without visiting the jail. On 14th may the court crushed people's hopes again by suspending the Sessions court judgment. Not far down south, Karnataka High court acquitted Tamil Nadu ex- Chief Minister J Jayalalitha and others in the Disproportionate Assets case. Everyone who s aw the adopted son's wedding knew that there was something more to it than what met the eye, but unfortunately, justice wears a blindfold. Indian judiciary from past ten years all through the verdicts and judgements has been another sector of manipulation. From the clerical levels to high CJI of india who are not derived without corruption. Many have been arrested toodisproportionate properties too.

Instances like the court coming down heavily on the government, striking down of the draconian 66A, there are both the situations in front of us. gave hope to the Aam Aadmi, but it looks like we have to wait for a just ruling for a while longer. Until then, let's wait for the next release.

Spirituality-Essence Of Music

An Interview With Kashinath Pattar, Classical Hindustani Vocalist

Chaitra R

Talent ,persistence and entrepreneur drive combine makes a music career. Kashinath pattar is a Hindustani classical vocalist with the ability to play various instruments like tabla, harmonium etc,. He is a living proof one can earn a living as a professional musician.

1)When did you start learning music...

I have been learning music since the age of 3. My father was a musician and wished to see me as a musician too. He guided me into the world of music.

2)Tell me about your teacher
My teacher was Dr. Puttaraja Gavai. He was a scholar, entitled to be a pious and virtuous musician.

but enlightened the world with his excellent music and also by teaching thousands of students. He was a Tribasha Pandit who authored several books in Kannada, Sanskrit and Hindi. He is an accomplished musician who could also play many instruments. 3)Was it always your dream to become a musician?

Yes, indeed. From a tender age, I have seen my father being a performer/actor in several stage plays. This grabbed my attention. But I felt that music gives happiness and peace. It is most pure and eternal. Hence, I chose to be a classical vocalist. 4)Do you think western music is gaining more popularity compared to classical music?

No, that is not true. The audience for western music is different from that of classical music. With western style of music, there is a feeling of delight at being entertained, where as classical music is An ocean 5)Who are your favorites sir?

First and foremost, my guru Pandit Puttaraj Gavai. I also love the music of Pandit Bhimsen Joshi, Ustad Rashid Khan, M. Venkatesh Kumar. 6)Any specific songs you like the most?

Ahir Bhairav, Desh, Kh-amaj, Bhageshree, Shree, Saraswathi and few others. 6)Your advice to young singers...

I see a lot of impatience in young learners. They want everything to happen at the speed of light. They want to learn fast and become famous quickly, which is highly impossible. Start by learning with full dedication. Do not run behind success. Have the thirst for learning and success will follow.

SAVE TREES. SAVE TOMORROW.

TENZIN SAMDUP

Human beings are becoming so self-centered that they stop realizing the value of trees. Nowadays people only thinks about themselves and look for their one necessity, without thinking about the planet where they are living. They only think about making money and stop giving priority to the planet which actually is affecting because of deforestation and issues. If human beings constantly engage in cutting down the trees then we will have a major problem in the future. People should realize their mistake and start tree planting instead of deforestation.

Ultimately, we only have to face a bleak future, as we are the creators of this awful situation. We all know that because of global warming species in this planet are struggling to survive. The change in climate has made so many fauna and flora extinct. We need to stop this. That's why, we should plant more trees as much as we can.

It is a must if we want to save our planet.

Trees increase our quality of life by bringing natural elements and wild life habitat and urban setting.

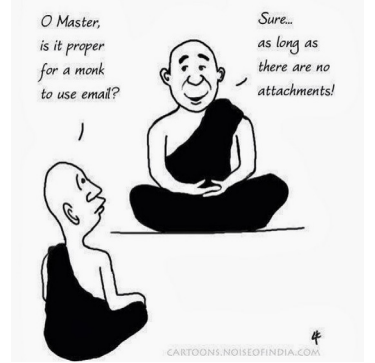

Trees improve the quality of air we breathe by absorbing dust and other air pollutant such as ozone, carbon monoxide and sulphur dioxide from the atmosphere.

They absorb toxic chemical from the soil and also fight soil erosion by keeping the soil intact with their roots.

The only way to save mother earth is, by opening our eyes to the destruction we are causing through deforestation. It is left upon us to overlook the effects happening and to foresee the situation and plan accordingly for the future generation.

It is we who can atleast combat the evil effects of the situations happening
Let's plant more trees and make the earth a healthy planet.

Who is the Real Guru ? Spirituality V/S Practicality

Chaitra

India is known for as a land of spirituality and its mystic charm draws people from all over the world. India has its best and the worst - the fake babas and the sadhgurus. Most of the time, people are infelicitous in seeking the right spiritual guru. People have a common perception of a guru with as khadi clad, with a lengthy beard, doing a lot of charity etc. Devotees lavish their power, praise and wealth on their professed Baba. This is a dangerous trend.

But a real guru, as mentioned in the Vedas, has the following traits. A true guru is in a state of detachment from the pleasures of the physical world. He may choose to lead a life of luxury, but he is not attached to it. He has complete control over his senses. When you are with him, people sense the same sense of detachment within themselves. The purpose of a guru is not to cure illnesses, but to show what lies within; to lose control and experience the fullness of life. In short, a baba will tie you in knots, but a guru will release you from it. And that is the guru who is hard to come by, these days.

Worthy Portrayal of Common Man's fate

Kaushik R

By its Title only one can get perceptible idea of the plot of the play. This drama has already completed 25 shows across southern karnataka, and waiting for more shows.

Drama is portrayal of Human Emotions. It has continuously taken its way by entertaining the audience by its vivid nature of acting, exaggerations, comedy, and made a time to relax the mind of the audience. This is one such drama which is blend of all the above types not only but also it portrays the frustrated and broken heart of a man in post-independence era of our country

It's a contrastive and comparative portrayal of characters of the old man and his granddaughter which deepens the emotion into a great pain. This drama is purely based on dialogues.

It is a complete opposite trend against today's commercial and masala type of plays of modern era. Most interesting part of the the drama portrays the real emotion, worry, sorrow of life. -acter Who has witnessed cyclical twists and turns drama is; it is an act of only two people. Grandfather who is an 80 year old man, deceived character. in the life. Basically being a man of strong courage, due to the situations which turn his life to a total frustration. further the life be

-comes misery with monotonous work.

There is naked portrayal of the behavior of the children's who are least bothered. Later the revelation of the main plot shape up. Perpendicularly and unconditionally the situation in her life too cores with a dark part. A life of irresistible trauma with unabated contradictions the granddaughter the other actor of the play has witnessed the most this play the old man meets in such a situation that he loses his wife and gets the unbearable rectum cancer.

Here the screenplay of the story starts where the story gets the further keeps the audience imbedded till last dialogue. T.N.Sethuraam is most suitable to the character deepa has enacted gracefully.

This is drama of must watch

Nutritional Tips for Monsoon:

-Eat fruits as they help you restore energy. Apples, mangoes, pomegranates, and pears are best suggestible. Avoid watermelon and muskmelons and also goosing on too many mangoes may cause pimples. Have medium to low salt food and avoid heavy salty food as they are responsible for high blood pressure and water retention. Eating watery foods like lassi, watermelon, rice, muskmelon creates swelling in the body. So, better opt for foods which are drying in nature like corn, gram flour, chick pea etc. Foods such as brown rice, oats, and barley are the best foods one could have in this monsoon. Body's immunity can be increased by adding a dash of garlic to the soups, sir fries and curries you intake. Opt for yogurt, curd and almonds in your diet instead of milk. (Drink only boiled and purified water to protect yourself from harmful germs and drinking plenty of water keeps your body hydrated.

Stories etched on palm leaves

Chaitra R

Palm leaves are cut and left to harden. The dried palm leaves are then sewed together to form a canvas. Colours are prepared from flowers, kajol (Kohl), turmeric and other organic substances.

The Chitrakara's (the artist's) entire fam-

Once the canvas is ready the Chitrakara sits down to carve intricate designs and figures on the hard yet fragile palm leaves.

Palm leaves make great roofs because of their size- the ones from coconut or royal palm in the feather leaf category. Some of the larger why they call them that because of the thatch roofs.)

The roofs made out of these giant leaves can last anywhere from 5-10 years depending on the weather of course. Palm leaves are one of the oldest and cheapest writing materials in existence. They were used extensively throughout India as Ancient Ayurvedic texts, religious documents and horoscopes were commonly etched into palm leaves. Sanskrit letters were inscribed into the leaf's flesh with an iron stylus. To create writing material, partially-matured palm leaves were dried, cut to size and rubbed with oil. The leaves underwent an extensive boiling and oiling process, in order to reduce acid content and close the leaf's pores.

Palm leaves of every species have been used as the roofing and partition material of huts. When constructed correctly, palm leaf roofs are extremely durable and water-resistant while remaining porous enough to allow ventilation from cooking flames and promote proper air circulation. Traditionally, a thick mud layer leaves to the ceiling beams of hatches. Palm leaflets make excellent partitions and terraces. Young, flexible leaves are selected is used to adhere whole palm and cut to overlap on top of huts. A palm leaf roof will last for approximately two years, depending on the leaf species and surrounding climate conditions.

Palm leaves are those which can be used in different purposes it is which can be used as a multi-purpose usage thing.

This need a lot of concentration and patience says Prashanth - a TalaPat-tachitra artist from Orissa. The artist carves on the palm leaves with a needle with precision : one wrong-line carved ,the entire canvas is spoilt. It takes days or even months to finish one carving.

It is all how we use it and make that usefull.

Golden Age at battle

Kaushik R

The word aggressiveness may be the word which is forgotten by the Indian team from past four or five years. It doesn't mean literally but there was a tuff challenge with cool tactics, decisions by one of the greatest captain Mahendra Singh Dhoni. India in 2010 with a cool captaincy and with the great guidance by the coach gary came to first in the test ranking. Throughout the struggle and hard work by the great giants of Indian cricket it embraced the the most cherished and wanted recognition of cricket. There after it was a golden gate for india to flourish the world cup 2011. Duncan Fletcher, a suggested coach by gary came as a coach with the much needed situation in the Indian cricket. But Team India witnessed both Victories and the Failures till the present time. It is a such a period which saw a steady decline in the test cricket's performance. In 2010 india was at top but years passed on, there was a steep decline in the test ranking.

It is now in the 4th rank.

The reasons may be many but there was huge changes inside the team. The retirement of Great legends Firstly Dravid then VVS and more importantly the greatest giant Sachin has been a severe loss to the team. Out of all these there was shocking a silent retirement by captain cool. there was very struggling period during the England, South Africa then Newseland Tours.

But a much regained Performance in the Australian tour though not many victories came but there was a revival performance by the players Like Virat, Rahane, Shami and Mohit. It is the high time for team to resurrect the golden age

It is a high time for the team India to behest the responsibility and to raise the passion in cricket
