PREAMBLE

The Department of Pharmacology hosted a seminar on "Ensuring Ethical Research; Understanding CPCSEA Guidelines for laboratory animal facilities". There were total 20 participants.

Committee for the Purpose of Control and Supervision of Experiments on Animals (CPCSEA) are a set of guidelines which includes a set of guidelines on humane treatment of animals and ethical conduct of scientific experiments in animals. The seminar will provide insight into CPCSEA guidelines.

The content delivered in the seminar is as follows:

The speaker initiated the session by addressing CPCSEA guidelines for laboratory animal facility, treatment and control of disease, personal hygiene, animal husbandry, personnel training, SOP's, surveillance, transport of lab animals.

Committee for the Purpose of Control and Supervision of Experiments on Animals, statutory body formed by the Act of the Indian parliament under the prevention of cruelty to animals act, 1960. Role of CPCSEA is to monitor animal experiments through ethics committees set up in institutions (IAEC).

The goal of CPCSEA, goal is to promote the human care of animals used in research, To provide specifications that will enhance animal well being and quality of research. They have activities regarding approval of animal house facilities, permission of committee for conducting experiments. As well as discussed the CPCSEA guidelines for veterinary care, it includes care, quarantine, separation of animals. Also discussed regarding procurement of animals done from established commercial animal vendors. Use of transport containers of appropriate size and in Animal husbandry discussed regarding adequate ventilation, easy access to food and water and also regarding SOP's.

OUTCOME

There were 20 participants in the seminar. The programme helped students about the various guidelines involved in laboratory animal facilities set by the Committee for the Purpose of Control and Supervision of Experiments on Animals (CPCSEA) for ethical research. By understanding these guidelines, individuals can ensure that animal research is conducted humanely and ethically, minimizing animal suffering while still obtaining scientific data that is relevant and valid. Additionally, the importance of animal welfare in research and to encourage ethical practices in laboratory animal facilities was conveyed to the students.
