Visited Agara platform balloon sellers and beggars...

The Team of 1st semester MSW Students as a part of Social Work Field Orientation went to observe the people of Agara located at Marathahalli Road, Agara Village, 1st sector, HSR layout , Bangalore on 28th December. The students as a team observed the people from their morning waking up till evening. Along with that students were able to know about the kids who were the kids of the balloon sellers and the begging people. These kids were educated by a retired IT professional Named Ashwani Kumar, along with the kids and him students all joined hands and gave the platform a good sweep and cleaned it. This was a turn from our actual field work project, but it felt better for everyone than standing and watching them. And as a team we got to know about the life a kid can get even though their parents are negligible...
