Guest Lecture on Organ and Tissue Donation and Transplantation Compliance

Mr. Naushad Pasha delivered an engaging and informative awareness session on the intricacies of organ and tissue donation, transplantation rules, and compliance on 6th April 2024.

He discussed the various types of organ transplants, including kidney, liver, heart, lung, and pancreas transplants, and the challenges associated with each.

He encouraged attendees to become advocates for donation, spreading awareness and dispelling myths within their communities.

Throughout the session, Pasha engaged the audience with interactive discussions, case studies, and real-life examples to illustrate the complexities and challenges associated with organ and tissue donation and transplantation.

The session concluded with a question-and-answer segment, allowing participants to seek clarification on various aspects of organ and tissue donation and transplantation.
